EXPLANATORY NOTES

SUBSECTION 1(1) amends section 4 of the Roads Act Highway Access Regulations (EC580/95) by renumbering it as subsection 4(1).

SUBSECTION 1(2) revokes clause 4(1)(b) of the regulations, which outlined general restrictions on entrance ways on sections of highways with more than two lanes, and substitutes new clauses 4(1)(b), (c), (d) and (e) which provide more detail on uses or changes of uses of entrance ways on three and four-lane sections of highways that may include dedicated right-turn or left-turn lanes.

- Clause 4(1)(b) outlines uses that may be approved on three-lane sections of highways where the third lane is a passing or climbing lane. The uses permitted are full accesses on either side of the highway for cultivation of a natural resource, an industrial operation determined by the Lieutenant Governor to be in the best interest of the province, or addition of a farm dwelling on a farm property where farm buildings existed prior to November 14, 2005. These uses were clearly defined in the regulations prior to these amendments.
- Clause 4(1)(c) outlines uses that may be approved on three-lane sections of highways where the third lane is an exclusive right-turn lane. In addition to the uses permitted under clause 4(1)(b) other permitted uses may include a right-turn only access from a right-turn lane approaching an intersection to a commercial operation determined by the Lieutenant Governor to be in the best interest of the province, or a right-turn only egress to an acceleration lane from an intersection, or to a combined right-turn and through lane departing an intersection to a commercial operation determined by the Lieutenant Governor to be in the best interest of the province, or a right-turn access and egress on the approach to an intersection to a combined right-turn and through lane at an intersection to a commercial operation determined by the Lieutenant Governor to be in the best interest of the province.
- Clause 4(1)(d) outlines uses that may be approved on three-lane sections of highways where the third lane is a dedicated left-turn lane. Uses that may be permitted include cultivation of a natural resource on either side of the road, or single family dwelling, supportive suite, home occupation uses, or creation of additional lots served by a private road existing prior to the approval of these amendments or establishment of commercial or industrial uses on the side of the road served by the left-turn lane. Additional lots served by private roads existing prior to the approval of these amendments, or new or change of use of commercial or industrial operations may also be approved if a new left-turn lane, or an improved left-turn lane, to serve the use is created, and with the recovery of costs determined by the Minister for the construction or improvement of the left-turn lane.

- Clause 4(1)(e) outlines uses that may be approved on four-lane sections of highways where the fourth lane is a dedicated left-turn lane. Uses that may be permitted include cultivation of a natural resource on either side of the highway, or single family dwelling, supportive suite, home occupation, creation of additional lots served by a private road existing prior to the approval of these amendments, on the side of the road served by an existing or new left-turn lane. Establishment of commercial or industrial uses served by an existing or new left-turn lane on the same side as the two lanes travelling in the same direction may also be approved if determined by the Lieutenant Governor to be in the best interest of the province.

SUBSECTION 1(3) amends the regulations by adding a new subsection 4(2) that states that the clauses 4(1)(b), (c), (d) and (e) only apply if an entrance way permit for use or change of use may be issued under Part 3 (Arterial Highways), Part 3.1 (Arterial Class 2 Highways) or where the Minister may approve use or change of use of a parcel of land under Part 5 (Collector Highways) or Part 6 (Local Highways).

SUBSECTION 2(1) amends subsection 21.3(1) of the regulations to allow the issuance of an entrance way permit for “change of use of an entrance way” as well as for “placement of a new entrance way” to Arterial Class 2 highways for uses listed in clauses under that subsection. It also amends clause (c) of that subsection to allow for subdivision of a new lot for “single family dwelling” or commercial use which was already allowed.

SUBSECTION 2(2) amends subsection 21.3(2) of the regulations to clarify that an entrance way permit may be issued for a commercial operation, home occupation or creation of a summer cottage subdivision

- on three-lane sections of a highway where the access is on the same side as two lanes travelling in the same direction,
- on either side of the highway on three-lane sections where the third lane is a right-turn lane,
- on either side of the highway on three-lane sections where the third lane is a left-turn lane, or

- on the side of the highway on four-lane sections where the fourth lane is a left-turn lane and the left-turn lane is on the same side of the road as the two lanes travelling in the same direction.

SUBSECTION 2(3) amends subsection 21.3(3) of the regulations to enable the Minister to impose conditions required for traffic safety when issuing permits under subsections 21.3(1) and (2) and recovery of costs associated with the approval.

SECTION 3 amends subsection 21.4(2) of the regulations to clarify that a full access entrance is permitted for commercial, home occupation, or summer cottage subdivision use when the access is approved on multilane sections of highways meeting the requirements of subsection 21.3(2) but accesses for those uses on four-lane sections of highways with two lanes travelling in each direction or on three-lane sections where the access is on the side not having two lanes travelling in the same direction will be limited to right-turn ingress and egress.
